TROOPS MOVE TO FRONTIER

Austrian Ficet in Adriatic Under Steam Ready to Bombard City of Venice.

London, May 20-While late advices from the Italian capital make no reference to an official declaration of | Washington 12 14 war by Italy against Austria, they do | Cleveland 12 16 announce that the Italian parliament | St. Louis 10 20 has conferred full powers on the gov Philadelphia 9 19 ernment to make all decisions in ease of war for the defense of the state.

This is taken to mean that Italy is about to strike, if it has not already done so. Paris Is celebrating the announcement of the Italian parliament's action as though war had been declared, and it is quite possible that this is so, for news from Rome has been greatly delayed.

It is reported from Milan that the Austrian fleet at Palo, the Austrian naval base in the Adriatic, is under steam and waiting only the actual outbreak of hostilities to proceed to Venice and bombard that ancient city. In anticipation of such an action the authorities for several weeks have been engaged in removing the art treasures from the galler ies and churches of Venice.

The movement of Italian troops to ward the northern and eastern from tier proceeds apace. General Cador na, the chief of staff, is at Vicenza to take full command of the 1,700,000 soldiers now in the northern zone Passenger traffic on the railroads leading to the Austrian frontier has been reduced to a minimum. Pifty express and slow trains have been suppressed in the south, while in cen tral and northern Italy, not even

NEW BRITISH CABINET

No Statement Regarding Its Personnel Yet Announced.

The national government which is to guide the British empire for the duration of the war is now in process of formation, says a dispatch from London. The leaders of the political parties were in conference throughout the day arranging details. No statement has yet been made as to the personnel of the new ministry, except that Premier Asquith and For eign Secretary Grey will remain in the posts which they now hold. Thus far, all the statements as to the allotment of offices has been based largely on surmise. It appears certain, however, that there will be a new civil head of the admiralty and war office, respectively, and possibly changes in the professional heads as well, or, at any rate, a readjustment of the responsibility. Lord Kitchner, the secretary of war, it is generally agreed, has too much to do in the direction of war, raising new armies and the organization of the output of the munitions and some of these duties will be shift ed to other shoulders. Chancellor Lloyd George and Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, are about equally favored for civil head of the war office, and A. J. Ballour is mentioned for a similar position in the admiralty. In the latter case there is some doubt as to whether Mr. Balfour would consent to accept this position. However, there is to be a complete change in the whole from a carrier in August, 1914, while government, including not only the the plaintiff's husband was at work cabinet but the under-secretaryships in the quarry. Webber & Webber as well, and the posts will be distributed among the liberals, unionists counsel for the plaintiff and Walter and laborites according to their the police finally agreed to release S. Fenton of Rutland, Silas E. Everts strength in the House of Commons.

The nationalists, it is understood have definitely decided to stand aside. T. P. O'Connor, in an article in his weekly newspaper, says that John E. Redmond, the nationalist leader, respectfully refused a seat in the cabinet, and adds: "I have no doubt he felt that such a refusal was mposed upon him by the conditions of Irish public life. The Irish part has a long unbroken tradition behind it of a single-minded and self sacrific agers elected were; Ward C. Lyons, ing devotion to the cause of Ireland, and probably many of Mr Redmond's countrymen might think he would have broken that tradition, or he would at least be charged with break ing it, were he to take any office un-

Austrian-German Forces Pushing Forward from the San In Effort to Cut Off Russian Retreat.

Petrograd, May 21 .- According to the report of the war office today. 300,000 men are locked in a deadly struggle north of Jarolau, the result of which will determine the fate of east Poland and southeast Galicia.

Petrograd, May 20-(Dispatch to The London Daily Chronicle.)-There has never been in Europe a bigger or flercer battle than that which is now being fought on the San river. The Russians are maintaining a heroic resistance under the storm of the German artillery. The enemy is affecting his main advance by means of big gunfire, the shells being followed by a close phalanx of 150,000 men. This phalanx includes, in addition to the divisions that have hitherto been operating against the Russian front, the First and Second Divisions of the Prussian Guards, the Tenth Field and Forty-first Reserve Army Corps and two improvised divisions composed of some of the best divis ions. The phalanx is supported by an enormous quantity of artillerytwenty-four battalions, for instance having attached to them forty batter-large calibre. These batteries are placed not in one line, but in several rows. They keep up a fire that spares not one yard of ground. London, May 21.-No confirmation of the dispatch from Stockhold stating that the Russian port of Rija on

Bind and Gag Watchman and Steal

$15,000 in Stamps Pittsfield, May 20-Three masked men held up Frank C. Viall, night watchman at the Tilden drug laboratory in New Lebanon early this morn ing, beat, gagged, and bound him and then robbed the safe of $15,000 worth of postage stamps, which had been placed in the safe because of the insecurity of the postoffice safe. There was $250 in paper money in the safe which was charred by the explosion but was overlooked by the cracks men. The safe was wrecked, windows in the building sattered and a portion of a staircase demolished, a water pipe burst and the floor was flooded. Mr. Viall tried to argue with the hold-up men when they shoved gums under his nose and was struck twice with a black-jack. After he had been knocked down Mr. Viail was gagged, bound to a plank with a rope and giv en a view of the men at work on the safe. Seven explosive charges were used to blow the safe and the noise awoke the people of the village but no one realized what the noise was until Mr. Vail worked himself loose and spread the alarm.

The police of Pittsfield, Albany and Troy were notified at once.

Dr. N. T. Brooks found Mr. Vaill had a severe scalp wound and took several stitches in it. The yeggs left in the office a sledge bammer and other tools and some wax.

Berlin, (via Amsterdam.) May 20in conversation with high officials of the Foreign Office, I gather that in the reply to the American note Germany will not back down from her previously stated position, because she cannot. But that the Kaiser's dict for Roosevelt with the expenses statesmen are earnestly racking their brains and taking ample time tiff and defendant. in the hope of finding some new form ula by injecting new suggestions or proposals which will be calculated to serve as a working basis for further discussions. They are probably convinced of the righteousness of Germany's case, and express a sincere desire and belief that they will be able to submit a strong brief to the high court of American public opinion, hoping for an ultimate favorable verdict, and a permanent understanding. From two well-informed independent sources I have gathered that Germany's answer, which is expected to be ready on Monday, or at the latest on Tuesday, probably will contain a proposal that Germany is willing to refrain from attacking merchant ships which are certified by the American government as not carrying arms, ammunition, and possibly other contraband for Germany's enemfactory to America and consistent with Germany's safety. The key to the problem is Ameri can ammunition shipments, which are a source of genuine concern to the military authorities. This undoubtedly is the real reason why Germany "cannot" back down. The American colony has got over its fit of nerves and is unpacking its trunks and preparing to linger. The panic was undoubtedly due to a misunderstanding, coupled with the fact that Consul General Lay began sending return postal cards to all known Americans here asking for the name. profession, address, telephone number, passport number and future plans of each person. Mr. Lay told me this was not an emergency measure prompted by the American situation but merely to enable him to round up its large flock here and make sure all had passports. He also wished to apprise them of the new police regulation requiring all foreigners to register with the police on June 1.

WILLIAMS DEFEATED

Amherst Won the One Hundredth Game Between Colleges

By coupling hits with William's misplays, Amherst scored a decisive victory over the Berkshire team in the annual "prom" game at Amherst yesterday, winning the 100th game between the two colleges, 12 to 6. Both rival star pitchers were driven from the box, Goodridge replacing Robinson, in the third for Amherst, and Bowen replacing Young for Williams in the sixth, after the latter had hit one batsman and allowed two singles, with one out. Bowen fared little better, but Goodridge succeed ed as a relief man and, barring the third inning, had his opopnents well

EDWARD M. WHITNEY

One of Bennington's Best Known

Young Men, Died Thursday Night. Edward M. Whitney, an employe of the Drysdale store and one of the best-known young men of this community, died at 8.45 o'clock Thursday evening at his home on South street. He was obliged to leave the store about six weeks ago because of a somewhat mysterious illness and his condition had been hopeless for a number of days preceding his death. Edward Morgan Whitney was born August 28, 1883, and was therefore in his 32d year. He was the son of the late Harry W. Whitney and had been in the employ of R. S. Drysdale for the past 15 years. In November 5, 1908, he married Grace Hannon, daughter of Col. Thomas and Mrs. Hannon of the Vermont soldiers home, who together with a little daughter, a mother and

The funeral, which will be private. will be held from the house Sunday afternoon. Rev. George S. Mills, pastor of the Second Congregational church, will officiate and the burial will be in the Park Lawn cemetery. In the passing away of Mr. Whitney Bennington loses one of the community's best known young men. His death is particularly sad for the reason that it came at a period of life when most men are expected to look forward to many years of usefulness, the more so in his case as he was a rugged specimen of manhood with a physique that had been fortified by a life free from injurious habits. He was an ardent sportsman and his leisure days were passed in the woods and on the streams. Courteous, industrious and faithful he had won his way into the respect and esteem of his employer, his fellow workers and a large number of acquaintances. The deep sympathy of the community will go out to the family circle in the bereavement that has come upon it. THROWN FROM WAGON

Judge Myron H. Woodward and Son

Edward Severely Bruised. Judge Myron H. Woodward and his son Edward G. Woodward, who live on South Branch street, met with a severe but not serious accident Thursday afternoon when they were thrown from a wagon. The two men were passing over Gage street with a loaded wagon, the younger man driving, when the harness broke and both were thrown heavily to the ground. They were severely cut and bruised but no bones were broken.

Judge Woodward is today able to move about the house with considerable difficulty because of lamed muscles.

WON'T EXCHANGE PRISONERS

Germany Refuses Because of Treatment of Her Submarine Crews.

London, May 19.-Correspondence between the British Minister at the Vatican and the Foreign Office discloses the fact that Germany has revoked the agreement made at the request of the Pope for the exchange of British and German civilian and incapacitated prisoners independent of the question of military age.

The Prussian Minister at the Vatican has explained that the action was taken because Great Britain was not treating German submarine prisoners as ordinary prisoners of war.
